Apollo Research and Innovations (ARI) invites applications for online Certificate Course In Clinical Research (CCCR)

Course Description

Clinical Research is a branch of healthcare science that evaluates the safety and efficacy of medications, devices, diagnostic products and treatment regimens intended for human use. The continuous research happening in the pharmaceutical industry on the new molecules/products have a great impact on the registration and/or marketing approvals by the relevant regulatory bodies for the investigational products before it reaches the pharmacy outlets. There is a huge need for qualified and trained clinical research professionals to cater to the needs of the growing pharmaceutical and biotechnology industry.

To cater to the needs of the current pharmaceutical and biotechnology industry demand and to fill the gap for skilled Clinical Researchers, ARI has been successfully conducting regular clinical research training programs for about 15 years. With the vast experience in completing around 50 batches of class room based clinical research courses, Apollo Research and Innovations (ARI) ventures into offering online clinical research courses designed for final year undergraduate/graduate life science students to progress their knowledge and to become eligible for a career in Clinical Research domain.
